■ A new business partnership in India

We are pleased to announce that we have become an authorized distributor for KINGJIM, Japan's largest stationery manufacturer, to sell their stationery in India.

We have offices in India (Bangalore) and Japan (Tokyo), and in order to be a bridge between India and Japan, we provide various software development services, Japanese language education, and sales support for Japanese products in India. In the 11 years since its establishment, KINGJIM has been striving to provide services focused on the Japanese market with Japanese quality, and is aiming to achieve Japanese quality services in India as well.

Through this distribution agreement with KingJim, KingJim's thick type files and TEPRAs tapes, which are used by many people in Japan, are now available in India. If you need any of these products, please contact us as a King Jim distributor!

Other products are also available, so please contact us. The contact information is as follows
